Pinetum. The definition of fine furniture.

Florence

2010

We're excited to introduce to you two fabulous new ranges: Florence and Pantone. Made in the UK and built to the quality you've come to expect from Pinetum, with innovative design features, these new ranges have the classic styling of plinths and cornices to create a warm and friendly ambiance to your home. Although visually the same, Florence and Pantone have a vital difference: Florence, our new oak range, is available in a range of oil and lacquer finishes that gives you the look and feel of truly timeless furniture; Pantone, our new painted range, invites you to colour your home with the choice of eleven shades, all beautifully finished with solid oak tops.

Notes

Care for your Pinetum furniture

It is important to remember that all Pinetum's furniture has been carefully produced using natural materials, the timber has been prepared specifically for use in the manufacture of interior furniture.

Average household humidity levels are between 30 - 50% depending on climatic conditions. It is therefore imperative that the furniture be kept in as warm and dry an environment as is practically possible. Storing the furniture in conditions outside of these levels will invariably cause a degree of movement and create potential problems, particularly with doors and drawers.

Minor damage in the form of small scratches, dents and general wear and tear can easily be remedied using a Pinetum Furniture Care Kit available from Pinetum stockists. Major damage and breakages are best taken care of by employing the services of a local cabinet maker or joiner, alternatively you might enquire with the store from which you purchased your furniture about the possibility of a "return and repair".

NB: Never use chemical, abrasive materials or cleaners on your Pinetum Furniture.
